

MORRIS RADIATORS

V FA CUP REPLAY

By MICHAEL MELANIPHY

GOALKEEPER John Maskell winced when he heard that his team, Wycombe Wanderers, will replay Bedford Town in the FA Cup on Wednesday night.

It is not that he minds leaving work early to travel with the team to Bedford—as an amateur footballer he is used to that.

It is just that at present he is working a two-day week at the Morris Radiators factory at Oxford after a month-long strike in which he took an active part as a shop steward.

And Wednesday happens to be one of his two working days.

Maskell, 22-year-old England triallist, had already been excused by the FA from a representative match against the Navy at Portsmouth on Wednesday afternoon to avoid him taking the whole day off.

Instead he and five other Wycombe players were going to play for Berks and Bucks against the Army the same evening at High Wycombe. But when Wycombe drew 1-1 with Bedford's Southern League professionals the six Wycombe players withdrew from the county match.

Now Brother Maskell, as he is known to his workmates, is looking for somebody who will swap shifts with him. But he will play for Wycombe even if he has to pay for the pleasure.

THE UNKINDEST CUP CUT OF ALL

By MICHAEL MELANIPHY

GOALKEEPER John Maskell winced when he heard that his team, Wycombe Wanderers, will replay Bedford Town in the FA Cup on Wednesday night.

It is not that he minds leaving work early to travel with the team to Bedford—as an amateur footballer he is used to that.

It is just that at present he is working a two-day week at the Morris Radiators factory at Oxford after a month-long strike in which he took an active part as a shop steward.

And Wednesday happens to be one of his two working days.

Maskell, 22-year-old England triallist, had already been excused by the FA from a representative match against the Navy at Portsmouth on Wednesday afternoon to avoid him taking the whole day off.

Instead he and five other Wycombe players were going to play for Berks and Bucks against the Army the same evening at High Wycombe. But when Wycombe drew 1-1 with Bedford's Southern League professionals the six Wycombe players withdrew from the county match.

Now Brother Maskell, as he is known to his workmates, is looking for somebody who will swap shifts with him. But he will play for Wycombe even if he has to pay for the pleasure.